

Child Dedication

Activity #1

Make a commitment to pray consistently for your child's salvation. Use this sheet to write a letter letting him/her know that you are praying for the day that he/she will accept Jesus Christ as his/her Savior. Save the letter for the day you celebrate his/her decision to trust Christ or for the celebration of his/her baptism.

Dear _____,

Activity #2

Decide what practical things you will do to make sure your marriage is the priority. Maybe it's committing to an early bedtime for your little one so that you have time to reconnect everyday. It could be an easy dinner conversation such as sharing a high and a low, a mistake you made, and how you saw God at "work" that day. Each parent should make a list of at least five things.

Activity #3

Each parent should make a list of five things that you value and want to pass along to your child separately. Share your ideas with each other. Then decide on two new habits you are going to put in place in your home to ensure that your child is learning what matters to you.

Activity #4

What does your family identity look like? A family identity is like a mission statement of what is most important to your family. What will it look like in three years, five years? Write out the values your family will implement making the most of every opportunity God presents to you each day.
